

Optimizing employment outcomes among rural cancer survivors: Beginning a community-engaged research program

We are looking for ways to help people undergoing cancer treatment maintain their ability to work. We'd like to talk with employers and supervisors to understand the barriers to and facilitators of supporting employment of cancer survivors within various settings.

Who can participate?

- Employers and supervisors throughout New Hampshire and Vermont who can speak on the challenges employers face when an employee is being treated for cancer or comes back to work after cancer treatment.
- We would like to hear from employers of different sizes, ownership models and industries.

Time or other commitments required of participants:

A one-time, 30 to 60 minute interview via telephone or internet (based on preference). After a few months, participants will be invited to participate in a 75 minute discussion group with 4 to 10 other participants. We will discuss our findings and possible programs that could help cancer survivors.

Is compensation provided?

Yes. Participants will receive $50.00 for completion of the individual interview and $50.00 for completion of the discussion group.
